The Nobel of the Sea to the Swiss photographer Jean-Claude Uldry

Jean-Claude Uldry, photographer, videomaker, project author and developer, who lives in Italy, has been awarded the prestigious prize "Golden Trident 2010" in the sector "Technical and Technological Activities" on occasion of the 50th anniversary of the International Academy of Underwater Sciences and Technologies. The prize-giving ceremony has been held in Anzio (Rome).

Unanimously considered as the "Nobel of the underwater activities", this prize stands as the highest recognition of worldwide excellence and is assigned every year to internationally outstanding personalities, institutions and associations.

In the golden book, his name will appear besides legends such as Jacques-Yves Cousteau, Jacques Piccard jr, Hannes Keller, Raimondo Bucher, Scott Carpenter, Jacques Mayol, and also Walt Disney.

All the material of Jean-Claude's press release, including brochures, photographs for printing and web, texts, HD videos and videos for iPhone, is available in italian, french and english languages at the following address:
